The 4 page 60 minute ESL British English lesson – 30/11/13

What is Christmas today?

Today, let's talk about Christmas. What is it? Why is it? How do we celebrate it? What does it mean to you? Also how has it changed over the years? Some interesting questions for you to mull over...maybe over a glass of Glühwein? This German pre-Christmas tradition has in recent years spread across Europe to the UK in the form of popular Christmas markets.

In Britain, people celebrate Christmas with roast turkey and all the trimmings followed by Christmas pudding. Families open their presents that surround the Christmas tree. In Europe, many people eat fish, a good catholic tradition, for their Christmas meal. In Central Europe, they celebrate Christmas one day early on the evening of December 24. It is also a public holiday on this day in some of these countries!

Christmas, as many know it, is actually down to one man - Charles Dickens. He invented the family Christmas! Up until he did, the festivity had been waning, as people celebrated it as a community rather than as a family. Queen Victoria's husband introduced the Christmas tree. Father Christmas in red was an idea that originated from the USA!

These days, Christmas is very commercial. We see Christmas promoted in shops in October! Has Christmas lost its actual meaning? These days, it seems to be more about Santa delivering the presents, yet the origins of Christmas are about Christ being born. In the past, many people went to church to remember this.

Children are taught the nativity play of baby Jesus being born, of Mary and Joseph travelling to Bethlehem, of the three Kings, the shepherds and the angel in the sky. We tend to overlook these important aspects when opening our presents.
