

Orlando shootings

Today, let's talk about the terrible shootings that took place recently at a gay nightclub in Orlando, Florida. More than 50 innocent people were killed with 53 others wounded.

The terrorist attack was carried out by Omar Mateen. Most of the victims were men in their 20s and 30s. The 29-year-old gunman was killed after taking hostages at the Pulse club. The attack is the worst mass shooting in recent US history.

Omar Mateen was an American who declared allegiance to the Islamic State. He was the son of an immigrant from Afghanistan.

President Obama said Americans were united in grief, outrage and "resolve to defend our people" after "an act of terror and an act of hate". He described the attack as "the brutal murder of dozens of innocent people".

Jeh Johnson, the Director of Homeland Security in the US highlighted the need for "meaningful, responsible" gun control measures.

Donald Trump has reiterated his controversial call for a temporary ban on Muslim migration to the United States. He also said it was the result of "two words: radical Islam". He criticised Hilary Clinton, claiming her desire was to "dramatically increase admissions from the Middle East."

Hilary Clinton said it was "an act of terror" and also "an act of hate". She has called for stricter gun controls in the US. Mrs Clinton said the incident "reminds us once more that weapons of war have no place on our streets".

Many people across America held vigils for the deceased. The Orlando massacre has been condemned worldwide by millions of different people. Social media responded with messages of support for the victims and their families.
