

World Ice Hockey Championships 2011

The 75th International Ice Hockey Championships in 2011 will be held in Slovakia. The tournament takes place between 29th April and 15th May 2011. It will feature the world's top ice hockey nations taking part. Slovakia's capital Bratislava and the country's second city of Košice will host the tournament. The newly refurbished Ondrej Nepela Arena in Bratislava and the Košice Steel Arena (U.S. Steel is a major sponsor) in Košice will co-host the event. Both cities are major bastions of ice hockey. Organisers are hoping to attract more than 350,000 ice hockey fans to the matches. Fans will be able to see live action of this exciting game that is said to be the fastest collective game in the world. There are 16 teams participating in the ice hockey tournament. A total of 56 games will be played. It all starts with a preliminary round of four groups each containing four teams. This leads to a qualifying round before the quarter and semi finals, followed by the final that will be played in Bratislava.

It is the first time the World Ice Hockey Championships have been hosted in Slovakia. The country was only created back in 1992 when it split in a friendly manner from the former Czechoslovakia. Slovakia last won the IIHC in 2002. It will however be Bratislava's third time in hosting the event. Previously it hosted it with Prague (now capital of the Czech Republic) in 1959 and 1992. The International Ice Hockey Federation awarded this year's championships to Slovakia in Riga (2006). Ice hockey is the number one sport in Slovakia. It is more popular than football! The country is on a major countdown to the championships. It is the talk of every Slovak. In case you don't know where Slovakia is – it is in the heart of Europe. In the ranking tables before the 2011 championships Slovakia currently ranks eighth. Russia tops the table followed by Canada, Sweden then Finland. Of course, this could all change come the event.

The Slovak post office has issued two stamps to commemorate the 2011 IIHF World Championships. After the tournament the Ondrej Nepela Arena in Bratislava will change its name and become known as the Orange Arena.

May the best team win!
